

Please consider the consumer's choice to select channels as individual selections rather than as packages preset by the Cable Companies. I have cancelled my cable subscription as I must wade through hundreds of channels that have nothing to do with my interests with the already limited availability of good and thoughtful programming. I am sure I speak for millions of other people who wish for the same.

Thank you for your consideration,
David